POINTS OF INTEREST

(GPS coordinates shown in degrees, minutes, seconds)

- 1 BLUESTEM PRAIRIE
32° 21' 14.8"N 95° 59' 35.7"W
Summer or winter, birds and mammals find a use for bluestem grass species, whether its food or shelter. Here at the park, we're working to restore this important habitat.
- 2 NATIVE AQUATIC VEGETATION RESTORATION
32° 21' 29.4"N 96° 00' 08.6"W
Just at the lake's edge, you will notice a wire cage partially submerged in the water. Ten of these ex-closure cages have been constructed and placed around the lake by Texas Parks and Wildlife to help propagate beneficial grasses and to prevent grass carp grazing.
- 3 ENTRANCE TO OAK FOREST
32° 21' 45.4"N 96° 00' 23.8"W
All trails here lead to an upland forest composed primarily of Post Oak, Blackjack Oak, and Black Hickory trees. White-tailed deer, coyotes, raccoons and a multitude of avian species call this area home.
- 4 BENT BY NATURE
32° 21' 53.3"N 96° 00' 29"W
Check out the bend in this young oak tree's main trunk; it's been bent 90° twice and it is still thriving on its own! What do you think caused these bends?
- 5 BURLWOOD TREE
32° 21' 52.9"N 96° 00' 23.9"W
Usually caused by stress, a burl is a growth in which the wood grain has grown in a deformed manner and is typically found on the trunk as a rounded outgrowth.
- 6 FEATHERED FRIENDS
32° 21' 50.6"N 96° 00' 06"W
Take a peek from this bird blind to see the birds that frequent Purtis Creek Lake. Bald eagles nest in the area and white pelicans can be found here during the winter. What species can you ID?
- 7 A PLACE TO REST
32° 21' 51.6"N 96° 00' 01.6"W
Pause here, and take in a gorgeous view next to the bridge spanning one of the many water inlets to the lake. You may even hear a hawk cry out or if it's early evening, beaver may be out and about.

Purtis Creek State Park

More than just great bass!

An hour southeast of Dallas, Purtis Creek State Park is known for its bass fishing, but there’s so much more to do! Come for the fish, and stay to swim, hike or bike the trails, or just relax by the lake.

STAYING SAFE

KNOW YOUR LIMITS. Prepare for sun and heat. Wear sunscreen, insect repellent and appropriate clothing/ hiking shoes.

DRINK PLENTY OF WATER. Your body quickly loses fluids when you're on the trail. Bring a quart of water per hour of activity.

TELL OTHERS WHERE YOU’LL BE. If possible, avoid exploring alone. Tell someone where you are going and when you plan to return.

WEAR A HELMET. When biking, check with park HQ to match the trail to your skill level. Wear a helmet to protect yourself in case of a crash.

YOU MAY NOT BE ABLE TO CONNECT. It’s a good idea to take along a cell phone and GPS unit, but don’t count on them.

POTENTIALLY HARMFUL PLANTS AND ANIMALS MAY LIVE HERE. You’ll see them more easily if you stay on trails.
